

10 Reading A-Z Resources You Should Be Using

In addition to a library of leveled books, Reading A-Z also has...

1. Close Reading Packs and Passages

Resources to teach 21st century skills, including critical thinking, collaboration, and communication.

Located under the Resources tab > Key Reading Skills > Close Reading

2. Project-Based Learning Packs

Everything you need to implement Project-Based Learning, including reading and activity resources, lesson plans, and helpful tips.

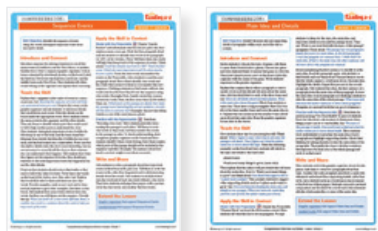

Located under the Resources tab > Instructional Uses > Project-Based Learning Packs

3. Paired Books

Fiction-nonfiction, fiction-fiction, and nonfiction-nonfiction resource pairings that enhance cross-text connections and promote higher-order thinking.

Located under the Resources tab > Books > Paired Books

4. Comprehension Skill Packs

Standards-aligned lesson plans for explicit instruction of up to 16 key comprehension skills.

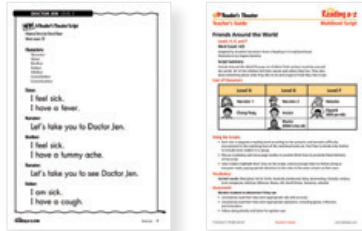

Located under the Resources tab > Key Reading Skills > Comprehension Skill Packs

5. Shared Reading Books

Resources to support a balanced literacy instructional approach by modeling close reading, text-dependent questioning, and strategies for answering questions.

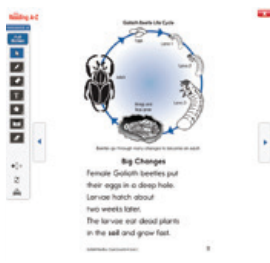

Located under the Resources tab > Books > Shared Reading

6. Reader's Theater Scripts

Highly engaging activities that give students essential practice in oral reading fluency and provide opportunities for group interaction and student cooperation.

Located under the Resources tab > Key Reading Skills > Reader's Theater Scripts

7. Projectable Tools

A collection of instructional annotation tools designed to increase student engagement and encourage close reading.

Available with every projectable resource on Reading A-Z

8. Multilevel Books

Fiction and nonfiction texts that support students by providing the same content at multiple reading levels.

Located under the Resources tab > Books > Leveled Books > Filter by "In Multilevel Set"

9. Tutoring and Mentoring Packs

Developmentally appropriate resources that target six instructional categories: alphabet, phonological awareness, phonics, high-frequency words, fluency, and comprehension.

Located under the Resources tab > Instructional Uses > Tutoring & Mentoring Packs

10. World Language Books

Leveled fiction and nonfiction books translated into Spanish, French, Polish, Ukrainian, Vietnamese, and British English.

Located under the Resources tab > Books > World Languages